Chapter 1: On the Ascendant

Ascendant in Leo:

Together you will be courageous, proud and somewhat egotistical. You never get even with people who have done you wrong, you just write them off your guest list of life having very little to do with them.

You are incurable romantics and dreamers, and are perfectly capable of making dreams a reality. In your career you need a position where all of that Leo energy can shine through. A job in the background would stunt your growth and creativity leaving you bored to death. You make excellent leaders and because of this you do not take direction or orders from others very well. Careers that allow your creative energy to shine, that bring forth your outstanding and dramatic abilities are what you seek.

You have great respect for people who are solid like yourself and when you make friends, it isn't half way, it is all the way. Others can count on your trustworthiness, sincerity and know that when the chips are down, you will be there and you expect the same from others. Although you love to "give" of yourself, you need the recognition, a pat on the back or a simple thanks for the effort.

The proud Lion couple would never allow anyone to see him/her suffering from misfortune or vulnerable to the world around them, but still there are those infrequent times when even the best of us get down in the dumps. You are known for your courage and strength of character, and other people recognize it and you draw them to you for their own support and source of inspiration.

Yes, you are somewhat self centered together, and what mark you can make on the world in the name of self expression is your forte. Do the best that you can, and the world can use you as a model for their own gain and inspiration. If you never had the need to be number one before, spending time together will bring that need out. Look to see what house the Sun is in, to see where you can shine together, or where your ego needs can be found.

Ascendant is in Leo, Sagittarius Decanate

Together you will explore the philosophical side of life. Freedom is desired and sought above everything else. Ruled by the planet Jupiter, you will be well intentioned and sympathetic to people and their causes. You will feel a strong devotion to your fellow man and be extremely moral and honest in your actions. One drawback to this position is taking chances and risks just for the thrill of it.

Chapter 2: On the Midheaven: How you are seen as a couple

Midheaven in Taurus:

Since this is the most "visible" part of the composite chart, it represents how you are actually seen in the world by others. It represents your more outward or public face and where you are likely to encounter success, and your reputation in the world as a couple. Your mutual goals together include the ability to accomplish things with the speed of glue. This is an asset because you will never forget the fine details and finishing strokes that make projects into masterpieces. Every action you employ is well thought out, organized, filed, cross referenced and above all methodical. You can work for hours together on projects that people have lost interest in.

Once you have a project finished, I defy anyone to try to make changes in your presentation. This is where your stubborn and strong willed nature is stimulated and the symbol of the Bull emerges. Like the homing pigeon who flies home the same way every time, you do everything in your life the same way, day after day even if you hate the routine while complaining at the same time.

You are considered to be rock hard, headstrong, opinionated, solid, reliable and dependable. You are sensible and practical in all matters and your appearance is cool, calm and collected, and unemotional most of the time, which masks a great strength which is an asset to you in times of struggle. Security on the job, finances which balance in your favor and a home which is your piece of the rock are utmost important to you.

You have an enthusiastic approach to all things beautiful, whether love or art forms, and can be quite at home among nature. You have magnetic qualities which makes people feel at home with you immediately. This is the spell you weave to get others into your web. Once inside you do not give them up easily, if at all. Jealousy and possessiveness are your shortcomings.

The tenth house is the home of worldly aspirations and attainment. This sector shows how you present yourself to the public, and deeds for which you leave behind as your legacy, or what you will be remembered for. The tenth has domain over the profession, public offices held, and your reputation. The combined energy of Taurus here, indicates that the drive to earn money and financial stability will be great for both of you, wanting to be prominent in society in some way. You may not have a lot of money, but the way you present yourselves, people will think that you do. You may have to decide who is going to be in charge here however, and delegating authority to others will not be an easy task for either of you, as you are doers, not letting others do for you. Venus, the ruler of Taurus is artistically inspired, whether through the arts, music, and theater as well as your social life and image you bring before the public. Look to the house where Venus is located to see what kind of career you might choose, or how you will be remembered.

Chapter 3: Planets and Aspects

Sun in 2nd house:

The Sun in the 2nd house is an excellent position for material possessions, money and financial security. Together you will be driven to accumulate things that make you feel secure, usually material, even if you were never that way before you met. One problem here is that what each of you value may differ greatly, bringing conflict with it. It will be very difficult to reach an agreement on this point and a great deal of effort will have to be put into it, thus making this a somewhat incompatible position.

Sun Conjunct Mercury

Your relationship may not be so much an emotional relationship as it is an intellectual one. Yours is perhaps a relationship where you can exchange thoughts and ideas, study, research, spend hours in conversation and enjoy mental stimulation rather than physical. For you, sex takes place mentally rather than physically. Rather than having an emotional rapport, you may be more detached and logical in your relationship.

Your conversations will be excellent and since you have so much in common, you probably think the same ways about life in general. You will have no trouble understanding what the other person is talking about. There are very meaningful discussions indicated here and should you be involved in creative or business ventures together, then this aspect is an added boost for the conception of new ideas.

You can feel very close to each other with this aspect, without feeling vulnerable, and doing your "own thing" will be a prerequisite for the two of you. Trips and travel, whether local or long distance, are also part of this aspect. Sitting still may be difficult for you both.

Sun Semisextile Venus

This aspect signifies that you just plainly love each other. The attraction is so strong between you that even though you may be incompatible by other standards, you still feel like being with your partner because of that love you feel for them. It's not that they won't occasionally drive you nuts - they will. It's just that the bottom line is that there is real love between you and there is no stronger emotion in the universe.

By being together you can create beauty and form as well as appreciate art and music. Your home can easily be filled with "treasures" that reflect the talents you have. But as always with Venus, be careful of overindulging in the good things of life so they do not become a noose around your neck instead of an object of desire. Remember, the more things you have, the more trouble you are likely to have. You will not mind showing off what you have accrued together, but vanity can become an undesired side effect of this aspect if it is not kept in check.

Avoid hiding any difficulties in your relationship and bring them out in the open so they can be resolved or at least recognized in order to avoid major problems down the road. You may also be drawn to speculative ventures with this aspect, so just remember to be practical in your expenditures.

With this configuration, no matter what difficulties come along to challenge you, you will always feel a need and desire to make peace, reconcile and create harmony and cooperation in your relationship. This aspect offers a great stability that will keep you from turning against each other, unless the obstacles become totally overwhelming.

A great deal of time and effort can be put into social activities and if you are involved in creative ventures together, then this aspect adds support and form to your ideas.

Sun Semisquare Pluto

This aspect is an indicator of either a very strong love-hate relationship or a relationship that possesses magnetic attraction and repulsion at the same time. This stems from the qualities of Pluto that want to try to dominate, to wield the power, to manipulate and to control. If you try to use this Plutonian energy in negative ways, there are likely to be some very violent responses to your efforts. This relationship may be headed for some real heavy-duty conflicts!

One or both of you may feel a strong need to dig deeply into the abyss of your partner's mind, ferreting out any and all information until there is nothing left but mush. If you are going to make this relationship work, then teamwork is required. You need to treat each other as equals with neither one of you holding the balance of power. If you cannot do this, then you may not want to get involved at all, as if you could avoid it! The relationship's positive potential is not impossible, but the greatest caution is advised to recognize the pitfalls.

Another word of caution, if you do marry and decide you can no longer live with the heat this oven produces, then I suggest you dig a trench and get set for open warfare while you decide at great risk to life and limb who gets custody of the goldfish! Possessiveness is obviously one of the negative traits of this aspect.

Power struggles, misunderstandings and quarrels can easily develop between you and your partner. Any dishonesty between the two of you is sure to be brought out into the open and you will have a heck of a time dealing with it. This is not a light or frivolous relationship, and, in time, you will get to know each other completely and once the bond is forged, it cannot easily be undone.

In case you have not figured it out by now, this relationship may be a fated, meant-to-be, irresistible, unavoidable connection and circumstances beyond your control may have shackled you together in order that you may learn valuable lessons.

It may well be advised that you think carefully before getting involved in business dealings together because they probably would prove to be both disruptive and destructive if you do. Perhaps the biggest reason for this is the power struggle that is likely to occur between you. Remember, both of you can't wear the same pair of pants at the same time, although you will try. Jealousy, fanatical behavior, impulsive acts and a modicum of physical suffering define the energy of this aspect. Problems can also be seen in joint finances, insurance claims, wills and taxes.

The good news is that there is a great deal of sexual energy present between you. Just so it isn't a total loss!

Moon in ninth house:

The Moon in the 9th house indicates there will be strong feelings in your beliefs and philosophy of life. Communication will be open and you will enjoy talking with each other, even if you come from different backgrounds or walks of life. You will see all of this as a new way to expand your views like never before and you will find great comfort in it. Long distance travel is something else you enjoy doing together. In fact, you may have met in a place that is foreign to one or both of you. The process of learning will never cease with the Moon located here and even if your relationship is not long-lasting, you will come away from it feeling that you have gained something just by being together. If you have come together to work on a project, either for writing or for transacting business, then this is a fortunate placement for it. The Moon located here may indicate more of a friendship rather than a love interest, but if your relationship does turn into love, then there will be strong intellectual qualities as well as the many emotional ties.

Moon Opposition Venus

Compassion, love, friendship, kindness and caring summarize the essence of this configuration. There is a real sense of unity and coming together between you, even in the smallest moments of separation that do occur. Affection seems to be bursting at the seams. You really tend to make each other complete when you are together and you can blend your separate abilities to form a union of one.

In time you will find that you really do need each other, and the joy of taking care of each other will permeate your total being. There will also be a dependency on each other which will be very endearing as well. And although you may notice a lot of differences between you, you still seem to be with the "right" person. Find the commonality between you and don't focus on your differences.

Although this is an extremely favorable aspect, you may find that meddling, interfering people (parents, past lovers, etc.) will have to be dealt with before the bonds spoken about above can fully be realized. There will also be a growing desire to have children and to build a strong home front together.

Moon Sextile Uranus

If you are looking for a cozy, down-to-earth, quiet, uneventful relationship, then might I suggest a stuffed animal instead, because this relationship is sure to be very changeable, untraditional and unstable. People will have difficulty believing that you are together at all. Your togetherness may even surprise you. You will not fit any pattern, but instead, will break every rule in the book for survival. Home life is sure to be very unconventional. Either that or you may be constantly on the move, always looking for some utopian existence. A "normal" life is not destined to be with this aspect of the Moon.

Should you be looking for a relationship that offers total excitement, with some experimentation and frequent departures into the odd and bizarre side of life and living, then you will fit right in here. Old patterns of thinking and life will dissipate, with new emotional values taking their place. At times this relationship can be somewhat upsetting, but it will also be quite an eye opener at the same time. You will notice that a great deal of emotional freedom will need to be given if your relationship is going to survive. Being possessive of your partner is a sure way to end your relationship with them.

Moon Sesquiquadrate Mars

Unless you are very careful, this relationship, that no doubt began like a bomb bursting in air, can end in disaster. The intensity and volatility between you is such that it can burn you up and consume you completely. Even if anger is not a part of your separate make-ups, this relationship may bring it out in both of you. This aspect tends to bring some really difficult confrontations and at times you will really aggravate and irritate each other, sometimes to the point of wanting to smack them up side the head. This, of course, would be totally ill-advised. If a fighting spirit is what you need and what you are looking for, then you have found the right partner. Just be sure to put your energies into something constructive rather than using them to "destroy" your partner.

In the best of times there will be uncontrollable passion, love that cries out for the night. In the worst of times there will be outbursts, temper tantrums and other emotional storms and if these are not held in check, they could lead to violence. Yours can be an extremely competitive relationship and a very selfish one as well, if you are not careful. If you are looking for stability in a relationship, then this aspect will not support your wishes. What this aspect does give is intensity. Should the rest of the chart support a loving, caring and stable relationship, then this aspect will give you a little zing for added measure.

Mercury in 2nd house:

Mercury is the planet of communication and located in the 2nd house of money, possessions, material values and belongings, there will be a lot of communication and planning on how to increase your financial and material state. One danger of this position of Mercury is that perhaps all you or your partner "think" about is money, money, money, forgetting there are other things much more important. You are likely to spend money on books, electronic equipment and home entertainment centers. If you are into property and what you own, then a great deal of time will be spent in the management of those properties. In either case, Mercury in the second house shows intelligence in the way you handle money, which is a very good sign. Just be careful that your opinions, should they differ on the handling of your money, do not put a strain on your relationship and thereby cause friction.

Mercury Semisextile Venus

Lighthearted, pleasing conversations permeate your environment. You enjoy the company of special friends, and if they share your flair for art, music, literature or if they have creative backgrounds, so much the better. Social occasions, fun and entertainment are likely to be your keywords.

Communication will be a strong suit between the two of you, especially regarding objects of beauty, music, art, love and romance. Both of you share common interests in these and other related areas.

You will enjoy telling each other how you feel and you prefer doing so in the written form of cards and letters. At best you will avoid anything that is too ponderous, choosing to keep your conversations light and loving.

If there are arguments at all, you both will make them as sweet as possible so that you don't offend the other. You are sensitive to your partner's feelings and you will say what needs to be said, but in a way that doesn't hurt the other. This aspect helps smooth out any rough edges in your relationship.

Mercury Semisquare Pluto

Communication may be centered on digging out the truth in each other's life and uncovering things about the other you would not dream to tell anyone else. You will cause each other to transform thoughts, feelings, beliefs and desires that have been buried for a very long time. This relationship will also have you questioning things that up until now were better off left alone. Because of this potent power you must be careful of manipulating your partner for your own purposes or trying to control their life and the way they think. Do not use the power of this aspect for psychological manipulation, brainwashing or for taking advantage of your partner's weaknesses and vulnerabilities.

Together you may choose to delve into the occult or to use the power of mind over matter. Just make sure the dark side does not win you over. If you get carried away in any of these areas, people may perceive you as a threat and bring danger to you. Should you heed the above warnings, then you can gain some very important truths about life, the universe and yourselves.

Venus in 3rd house:

Venus located in the 3rd house of communication suggests that communication will take on a more mellow tone between you, never wanting to offend or hurt the other person's feelings. A great deal of time will be spent in the realm of beauty and harmony and you will bring as much of it as possible into your home and work place. You will also find that you probably have the same taste or appreciation for music, painting and poetry and you each bring an interest in these things into the relationship. Venus positioned here means you are in touch with your emotions and can put these feelings into verbal and physical form. Love and friendship will play a very big part in this relationship and you may spend a great deal of time talking about it. There will also be a greater appreciation and love for family, relatives, neighbors and the people in your immediate environment.

Mars in 1st house:

Mars in the 1st house combines both your energies in order to work on goals and projects together, and the more physical the expression, the better. You will need to get rid of this energy any way you can, because if you don't, you might very well take it out on each other, in negative ways. Think of what you can accomplish if you use it in positive ways!

Mars Sextile Jupiter

You are a dynamic couple who can make anything happen that you want to, just because you are together and have a healthy, winning attitude. When you are together you will intuitively know when the time is right to make things happen and bring success to whatever you undertake. Because you have come together you will accomplish more than you ever dreamed of than by yourself. An extra added element of good luck is apparent as well, especially in physical competition. Your relationship is filled with optimism, growth and expansion and you will share together many activities related to each.

Jupiter in 4th house:

With Jupiter in the 4th house, the home will be of primary importance. Wherever you live is likely to be very comfortable and secure, and since Jupiter rules expansion, your residence could be larger than normal as well, or will be at some point. Any place where you can feel at home, entertain and socialize in style will be to your liking. You are much more likely to be more generous to people around you with Jupiter here, and take more of a caring or nurturing role for anyone who comes along. With Jupiter in the 4th, you can always rely on each other for support, making this a very fortunate placement. You may also own property together. This is an excellent indicator of wealth as well as an indicator of a secure relationship.

Jupiter Square Saturn

There may be real struggle in this relationship. One of you is apt to be the great optimist who believes that anything and everything is possible (that real go-getter attitude). The other one may be tied down with restrictive, cautious, reserved, doubtful and security-conscious attitudes (the wet blanket attitude). This energy cannot come together unless the one is less optimistic and the other less reserved. You need to find the common ground. There is no other way for this relationship to work. This aspect also adds less compatibility to the relationship as it vacillates back and forth from positive direction to grim outlook. It's for sure that one of you is going to be the "heavy" in this duo.

If, perchance, the optimist in this relationship has the greater influence, then extravagance and debt can really do a number on the conservative one who must "fix" the problem, thus adding frustration and difficulty to this combination.

Jupiter Square Pluto

Yours may not be an easy relationship because you will continually challenge each other's beliefs, how you were brought up and the path that you were following up until the time you came together. This relationship is sure to be a trial-by-fire of what you believe and how strongly you believe in it. If left unchecked, your relationship may become somewhat one-sided or fanatical, with one of you trying to dominate the other for the sake of power. Or perhaps you as a couple will try to dominate those in your environment, all in the name of what you believe. Even at best, people may view you as a threat because of your fanatical approach. Once this happens, people may be turned off by your presence or they may completely turn against you and what you stand for.

Saturn in 12th house:

Saturn placed in the 12th house indicates that it may be very difficult for the two of you to deal with each other in an open manner. Saturn is cold, reserved and proper so your communication will be somewhat automatic, brief and cold. One of you may find the relationship too repressing and feel almost put-down by the whole experience. This may bring about feelings of needing constant breaks from each other's company. If you are going to try and stay in your relationship, then you must recognize that any verbal attacks are not intentional, but come out almost like they are pre-programmed. A great tolerance must be adopted if you want this relationship to work at all.

Saturn Conjunct Pluto

Your relationship may be destined to include difficult periods of frustration, stress, hardship and perhaps a bit of poverty. If you are looking for a relationship that offers comfort, good fortune, affection and ease, then this one may not be the one for you. Believe it or not, any or all of the adversity you face can act to bring you closer together, if you can just make it through the dark times. Make no mistake about it, the purpose of this configuration is to test you to the extreme. There are times when either of you will feel extremely limited or imprisoned just by being in this relationship, with your partner the jailer. Perhaps you feel your partner is manipulative and controlling. Outside circumstances may very well lend a hand in bringing conditions that bring tremendous burdens for you do deal with. This relationship may require some very great sacrifices with a more-than-determined attitude to see it through.

Saturn Conjunct Asc.

You may feel that the bond between you is so strong that nothing can ever divide you apart. This is not necessarily because of an attraction between you, but rather because the tie that holds you together seems fated, inevitable or predestined. Getting out of this relationship may be difficult because of material, psychological or other uncontrollable factors. If at some point you want to leave this relationship, you will have to examine the real reasons why you are together in the first place. At the same time, you may look at this relationship and see that you don't have anything in common to sustain a real working relationship. If you desire to be lovers or to enter into marriage, then you will have to look for more positive factors between your charts that can help support such a relationship. Even in the most positive relationship you may find that emotional expression between you is very inadequate. You may also find there are great barriers set in place that prevent the two of you from ever coming together. This can be caused by circumstance, previous relationships, great burdens or responsibilities connected with the relationship, present relationships or a great difference in age between you. This aspect is called the aspect of mutual alienation, unrewarding to say the least.

Saturn Sextile Neptune

This aspect takes the discipline of Saturn and combines it with the spiritual side of Neptune in a positive way. In your relationship you should find that life takes on a rather simple quality, without extravagance and without unnecessary diversion. Spiritual issues or ways of life may become very important subjects and the longer you are together, the more concrete your relationship can become. You may not find this a particularly passionate or romantic relationship, but instead, a very comfortable one that fulfills your spiritual, emotional and practical needs. Self-sacrifice to a higher order or to the wishes of others is especially favorable here.

Uranus in 11th house:

Uranus located in the 11th house indicates that your goals and ideals may be very much different than the norms other people accept. In a marriage situation, most people come together for the love, companionship and sexual aspect of life. You, on the other hand, may work for a cause or for some very unusual reason all your own that only the two of you will understand. If your reasons and convictions are strong enough, then the bond that you share will be just as strong as in conventional relationships. As a couple you will have a strong attraction to friends that are very different or even weird, people whom you would never have expected to associate with while you were single or before the two of you met. Your relationship will bring new expectations into your life along with a whole new approach to very different experiences.

Neptune in 3rd house:

As Neptune has rulership over confusion, delusion and deception, Neptune in the 3rd house can represent a problem. It may be very difficult at times to understand what your partner is talking about or whatever it is they say, you misunderstand. Communication may be difficult because you cannot seem to find the right words to express. On the other hand, non-verbal and intuitive communication may actually be much better and you might even be able to develop unspoken communication together. This would also be true of family, relatives, neighbors and the people in your immediate environment. Vague or subtle feelings of inferiority may make you reticent about expressing your true feelings or needs. Speak up and make your thoughts known. Your partner and the people around you cannot read your mind. People in your family and environment may be very confused when you try to communicate as well and there can be real deceptions in communication that should be guarded against, especially with relatives and in-laws.

Pluto in 12th house:

Pluto is the planet of death and rebirth, regeneration, obsession, fanatical behavior, power and the abuses of power. This position of Pluto will tend to make you dig down to the roots of any problems you are having so that you can work through them. Your relationship will result in an inner transformation in both of you and these changes will be for the better. Whatever problems you encounter must be dealt with immediately because when Pluto's energy festers for too long, it comes out in explosive ways, thus bringing great difficulty in your relationship. There will be a high intensity of energy around you, especially when you are together. This can frighten the people who come into your presence because the power is so intense that they don't know what to make of it. People can often turn against you and do things behind your back without any provocation. The 12th house is the house of secret enemies and your actions will trigger people to work against you. Therefore, it will be necessary to be honest and upright in your approach to people and make it very clear what your intentions are in any situation.

Pluto Conjunct Asc.

Yours is likely a very strong and powerful relationship. There are powerful forces here that can work in either positive or negative ways. Pluto is the planet of death and regeneration and as such, he will bring many changes into your lives. Many things will be brought about and brought to light, things and actions you didn't even know you were capable of. At the very least this relationship may place you upon a much different path than you may have expected and any experiences within your relationship will be much more intense than ever before. One of the effects of a Pluto-based relationship is an intense fascination for each other that overrides all other interests or considerations in your life. This fascination and obsession can be one that has you going down a path of destruction, so you need to be very careful in this regard. There can also be tremendous power struggles within your relationship where one partner is much more dominant than the other and the second partner feels as though they have no will of their own. Under this manifestation of Pluto, the relationship may "self-destruct" when one tries to break free from the other, the result being a very difficult and bitter breakup.

Rewards may come to you through this relationship; publicity; a restless and nervous constitution; impatience; changes that occur suddenly; increased desire to work hard for recognition; coping with the unusual.

Chapter 5: Other Issues in Your Relationship

Virgo on 2nd house cusp

As a couple, with Virgo on the second house of money and possessions, you are very particular and exacting about money and possessions. Your financial picture is determined by what you can accumulate by using your mind with a greater attention to detail. You are very careful with your finances, but you can become somewhat penny-wise and pound-foolish. You may save on small matters only to throw it all away on luxuries and expensive entertainment. Be careful money matters don't do you in through health matters, as you are apt to worry about money a lot. Look to the house containing Mercury to see where you can earn your money, most probably in service related industries.

Libra on 3rd house cusp

With Libra on the cusp of the third house of communication and learning, it shows that thoughts and ideas are expressed gracefully, and with a lot of class. Venus is the ruler of Libra, so there may be some shared artistic talent in your line of communication together. Artistic and musical aspirations or interests will be very strong with this placement. Together you would make excellent diplomats because you have very refined mannerisms. Family matters, dealing with neighbors, or the public are your forte, and will be approached in a friendly manner because you dislike any kind of conflict or confrontation. Look to the house where Venus is located to see where your interests can be found.

Scorpio on 4th house cusp

With Scorpio on the fourth house of the home, family, roots, real estate, property and security, the two of you will have obsessive feelings about your home and family. Since Scorpio is such a secretive sign, whatever goes on in the home remains in the home, and you may not even tell each other what is going on. There will be very strong protective and loyalty energies to the home and family structure. You can count on each other to be there when the going gets tough, and because of this you expect loyalty and respect in return. Scorpio likes breathing room and spacious areas to wander. A home in the woods in the middle of nature would be your slice of heaven. Look to the house where Mars/Pluto is located to see where your home security can be found.

Sagittarius on 5th house cusp

As a couple, you have Sagittarius on the fifth house of Children, recreation, romance, creativity, artistic abilities, hobbies, writing books (creatively), speculation and investments. With Jupiter here, it will be hard to keep tabs on you as you jet off to some exotic location, living the good life. Gambling, speculation and investments are at the top of your list of things to do everyday. Together you have a good handle on young people and their needs, and would make excellent parents. You will respect their rights as individuals and earn their respect in return. Look to the house where Jupiter is located to see where you might find your recreation and romance potential.

Capricorn on 6th house cusp

The two of you have Capricorn on the cusp of the sixth house of Work, Work environment, responsibilities, health, work and service for others, relationships with employees and co-workers, and your interest in physical fitness. The two of you should be careful of taking a job where you are unfulfilled and limited in what you can do. Your responsibilities to work and each other will be great, but this doesn't leave any play or free time. If you push yourselves too hard in work, there can be physical ailments to deal with. As people in charge of others, you will be very strict, demanding and disciplinarians, even with each other. Sometimes Capricorn located here avoids work altogether because of lack of interest in themselves. As a couple you value a challenge and responsibilities that accompany it. Look to the house where Saturn is located to see where you might find work or service to others.

Aquarius on 7th house cusp

Relationships, partnerships, marriage, people you have close associations with, cooperation or lack of, contracts, and legal matters are all part of the seventh house, and Aquarius is located here. The two of you will require a great deal of independence and freedom if this relationship is going to work at all. The more you need to keep each other in check, the more freedom is needed. In order to make this work, you must approach each other as friends first, and emotionally you are likely to remain detached. Look to the house that contains Uranus to see how you will deal with partnerships.

Pisces on 8th house cusp

The eighth house deals with joint resources. Possessions that are not earned directly by you, but obtained through the relationship, wills, or pensions. It also has to do with money belonging to others such as taxes, corporate money, insurance, and the stock market. The eighth house also relates to the mysteries of life and sex. Pisces will have an influence on the above matters in this relationship by bringing worry and concerns over finances for no real reason, but that won't stop you from worrying anyway. Material aspirations are not a strong part of your lives, and you are happy living the moment. In matters of spirituality, there will exist a strong intuition and psychic abilities. Legacies are apt to be a source of disappointment for you both because of hidden obstacles and deceptions connected with it. Look to see which house Neptune is located in, to see where your joint money can be found.

Aries on 9th house cusp

The ninth house is the house of long range goals and long distance travel. Religion, philosophy and higher education are ninth house matters. With Aries ruling the ninth house, the two of you will be optimistic in your plans goals and desires. You will be aggressive when making and following through on plans, and can easily visualize where you want to be together. Look to the house where Mars is located to see where your interests in higher aspirations can be found.

The eleventh house has domain over achievement of goals and objectives, and hopes and wishes. Humanitarian efforts, clubs, groups, associations, sharing ideals are also associated with the eleventh house. People that support your efforts, friends and connections to the outside world can be found in this house. With Gemini located in the eleventh house, the focus of this relationship turns to personal connections with people who have the same intelligence, humor and wit as you. Making friends comes easy for you both, and your sense of humor is heightened with this placement. You will be happiest when you are with other people, but need constant mental stimulation to be happy. Look to the house where Mercury is located to see where you might find your friends, associations and group involvements and interests.

Cancer on 12th house cusp

The twelfth house rules the subconscious mind, problems arising from unseen causes, and limitations in our lives. This house has rulership over behind the scenes activities, emotional problems, secrets, deceptions, problems to overcome, the side of ourselves away from public view, where the soul can step back and take a look at the world around us. The twelfth house also has rulership over prisons, hospitals, and other institutions that would remove you from society. Cancer energy on the twelfth house for you both indicates it will be hard to let your feelings show, keeping your innermost feelings to yourselves. Even though you are generous to others, your feelings are easily hurt if you feel unappreciated. You both require a lot of TLC or personal attention, as you can easily feel taken for granted for your efforts. It will be difficult for people to understand what you need, when you keep your feelings and thoughts to yourself. Look to the house where the Moon is located to find that area in which you retire from public view.
