A difficult time in love relationships is virtually unavoidable at this time. Areas which you have neglected in your relationship come back to haunt you now. For example, if you have been inconsiderate, domineering, or forgetful of the other person's needs, you may find that your mate is now completely tired of trying to coerce you into cooperating, and a feeling of distance develops in the relationship. You are likely to find that you now need to devote more time to helping the other person and giving more to the other person, rather than simply enjoying his/her company and taking him/her for granted.

During this time period you attempt to restructure your love relationship. Traits in the other person that previously were minor annoyances now seem like major obstacles. You become very picky about the other person, and you see him/her as too demanding or too independent, too domineering or too passive, lacking in romance and style, or else too mushy and corny. You are very difficult to please now because you've decided what you want in your relationship and you want it now. Your mate may be pressuring you in a similar way to act differently. You must come to grips with what you really want in a relationship and whether the relationship you are in is right for you. If you become sufficiently frustrated, a separation will occur or you will become increasingly lonely, feeling distant from others and unfulfilled in your love needs. On the other hand, if the two of you feel like you have found what you are looking for, then the relationship will become even stronger and the commitment to support and help each other even greater.
